The Millard boys are slowly recovering from the effects of the editorial onslaught which appeared in last week's Journal.

While we appreciate the style of the writer and don't deny the statement, we do not like the idea of including all in order to catch one.

The pith of the business, we think, is this—one of the Millard boys went to Kirksville Sunday evening, and it seems he must have driven a "fine horse," for he was out riding with a Kirksville lady, while, we may presumably imagine, the "other fellow" was taking Millard Items and shaping editorials for the Journal.

We wish to say that the Millard boys are not "in the soup" very deep, and if they do get in they can swim.

Nearly all the fall terms of school will open during the month of September. The necessary outlay for school books will be very large. Font & Bean have been at work all summer devising methods whereby this great expense to parents may be reduced to the smallest amount possible. In this they have been remarkably successful, and now invite the public to call and examine the largest stock of new and second-hand books in the county. They will save you money. OBITUARY.

BOOKOUT—Fannie, daughter of Eli and Martha Bookout, died Aug. 1st, 1889, age 17 years, 1 month, and 8 days.

Fannie confessed Christ and took up her cross to follow Him at the age of 15 years, and has since been a faithful member of the Fairview Christian church, and will be sadly missed by her large circle of friends and associates. Dear Fannie, who ever had an encouraging smile or a sympathetic tear for all, is gone. Yes, gone from earth forever. We so sadly miss her sweet face, and will no more hear the accents of her welcome voice. We remember how much happier we were when we had her with us and deeply feel the thrilling, heartrending bitterness of the thought of the vacant chair and the broken family-circle. Yet, we would not call her back; for we know she is now "beyond the river" and "the pure in heart shall meet again."

Here we shall meet when life's work is done, Thence we are going, one by one; There the scattered links of love's broken chain, Enjoy and beauty unite again.
